President of Mine Workers Association Arrives.

VISITS WHITE HOUSE

HAS A CONFERENCE WITH PRESI-DENT ROOSEVELT.

Then Calls on Commissioner of Immigration Sargent-Will Not Indicate Nature of Discussion.

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers arrive at the temporary White House at 11:50 a.m. His coming was democratic. Accompanied by several newspaper men who had met him at the Pennsylvania station, he boarded a street car near the station and proceeded directly to Jackson place. Mr. Mitchell walked briskly from the car to the White House, chatting with Walter Wellman, the newspaper correspondent and arctic explorer, who is said to have gone to Wilkesbarre for Mr.

Mitchell and returned with him, As the door of the temporary White House was swung open to admit Mr. Mitchell, the strike leader nodded and smiled to several newspaper acquaintances recognized by him. The miners' president was shown directly into the office of Secretary Cortelyou. A minute later he was ushered up the stairs to the room on the second floor, where eleven days ago he participated in the memorable conference of the President, coal operators and others.

Declined to Talk.

Mr. Mitchell on his way from Wilkesbarre here, on his way from the depot to Jackson place and before he went to the President's room declined to say anything that would give any indication of his intentions. The best information to be had was that the strike leader was thinking hard and keeping his thoughts to himself.

Mr. Walter Wellman, who accompanied President Mitchell to Washington, den!e1 that he had acted as a messenger of President Roosevelt in going for the strike leader. On other authority it is said that the President telegraphed for Mr. Mitcheil late yesterday afternoon when telegraphic advices from that town indicated that the operators' propositions were being entertained in a spirit different from that betokening prompt acceptance.

Mr. Mitchell left Wilkesbarre at 3 o'clock this morning, and looks somewhat tired and President Discusses Situation.

During the morning, before the arrival of Mr. Mitchell, President Roosevelt discussed these. He left before 11 o'clock, but was may be obstacles in the way of an immediate settlement he is none the less fully hopeful of a settlement within a short time He does not expect any other than a satisfactory outcome, despite the outward indications of a contrary nature.

Carroll D. Wright and Frank P. Sargent, who have both been with the President many times during the consideration of the strike problem, were with the chief executive again this morning, but not for a great while. They were, like Secretary Root, uncommunicative.

Speaker Henderson.

Just as President Mitchell arrived at the White House this morning Speaker Henderson drove up. The Speaker was ushered into the room where the President and Mr. Mitchell were conferring. He remained some minutes with the two, and when he emerged to take his carriage he remarked jovially to the crowd of newspaper men: "I have just shaken the hands of the two great Presidents-President Roosevelt and President Mitchell. I told them to get together and do business.

"What was the response?" was asked. "The response," said the Speaker as he stepped into his carriage, "was that smile which may mean so much or so little."

Conferred With Commissioner Sargent President Mitchell was in conference with President Roosevelt just about an hour, leaving the temporary White House to go to the Treasury Department to have a talk with Frank P. Sargent, commissioner general of immigration, recognized all over the country as one of the safest and most conservative labor leaders in the United States. The fact that Mr. Sargent had just been with the President less than an hour and a half before might indicate that President Roosevelt had suggested that the two labor leaders confer before Mr. Mitchell's return to the White House for another conference at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Mitchell appeared to be in a much better frame of mind when he left the President than when he went to him, and this augured well to those who put even the smallest things together for signs of a settlement. Mr. Mitchell had the usual accompaniment of a dozen or so newspaper men on leaving the White House. He did not think it likely, he said, that he would have any statement to make now or later in the afternoon. He hoped to leave Washington at 4:50 o'clock this afternoon, he said, and it was probable that he would have nothing to say even then, although this could not be stated positively by him. He did not know whether Secretary Cortelyou would have anything to give out. He would see the President at 3 o'clock.

The conference at the White House was shorter than had been supposed would be Met at the Station.

Mr. Mitchell was seen by a Star man at the Pennsylvania station upon his arrival. He said at once that he could not discuss his visit in any way, neither could he say anything about the strike settlement, or even whether there had been any change in the situation since last night.

The fact that Mr. Mitchell comes without his advisers, the district presidents, who accompanied him on his first visit to the White House, and the further fact that he expects to leave the city on the 4:55 train this afternoon, would indicate that an answer either accepting or rejecting the President's offer is in the possession of Mr. Mitchell, and that he has not come to open negotiations which would require delay and

Wilson urged Mr. Mitchell to call at the fore his death the ship encountered a heavy southwest gale in which a sea boarded the office of the association in the Corcoran building as soon as he had concluded at the White House, and this invitation was acepted conditionally. Mr. Mitchell was not animated or elated in manner. He did not initiate any conversation, and his answers to questions were in monosyllables. When he alighted from the avenue car and saw a score of newspaper men standing in front of the temporary White House he remarked:

"Are they always there?" Both Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Wellman left their traveling bags at the station. While waiting for a telephone message to be sent to the White House by Mr. Wellman Mr. Mitchell took a seat in the station. As he did so a station employe approached and held out his hand

'You are John Mitchell," he said, "and so am I, and I think there must be something in a name.' Mr. Mitchell shook the man's hand and made a pleasant reply. The trip from Wilkesbarre was without incident. The start from there was made at 3 o'clock this morning. Mr. Mitchell occupied a sleeper and breakfasted in Philadelphia at 7 o'clock. He saw no one on the train with whom he discussed the strike situation.

Mr. Wellman, who was with him, was asked regarding the situation, but replied that he was as much in the dark as every Mitchell's Main Objection.

It is understood that at the conference with the President, Mr. Mitchell's main objection to the acceptance of the proposition of the operators was the limitations placed upon the President in the matter of the selection of the arbitration commission. He was especially opposed to the restriction limiting the selection of a federal judge to a particular jurisdiction. It is understood that the miners are willing to waive the technical recognition of the union, as they will get a recognition of the general situation that exists in the anthracite region.

It is considered likely that the proposition will go back to the operators with a request that the restrictions in the appointment of a commission be withdrawn in order that the President may have a free hand in choosing the commissioners.

Secretary Root arrived at the White House shortly before 2 o'clock and took luncheon with the President.

THE PHILIPPINE CENSUS.

Gov. Taft Says That Work Will Be Begun March 1.

The War Department has been informed by Governor Taft at Manila that the work of taking the census of the Philippines will begin March 1 next. Governor Taft says that all the census schedules are in the hands of the printers, and census maps and instructions for supervisors and enumerators are undergoing preparation. The supervisors will be appointed before December 1, and will assemble in Manila for instructions on that date. Gen. J. S. Sanger has been placed in charge of the census work and will have able and abundant assistance. Mr. Henry Gannett of the geo-logical survey and Mr. Victor A. Olmstead of the Agricultural Department have been appointed assistant directors of the Philipinnines November 1. Both of these gentlemen have had a good deal of experience in census work in this country and in Cuba.

BABCOCK SEES SUCCESS..

Predicts Good Working Republican Majority in the Next House.

Representative J. W. Babcock of Wisconsin, chairman of the republican congressional committee, came to the city last night from New York. At 1 o'clock this afternoon he called upon President Roosevelt at the temporary White House. To his friends Chairman Babcock spoke enthusiastically of the probabilities of republican success in the country this fall.

"We have reached the point in the campaign where we can see a republican majority in the next House of Representatives beyond any reasonable doubt," he said to an Evening Star reporter. "The President's efforts to settle the strike, which will no doubt be successful, are greatly appreciated by everybody regardless of politics, and must necessarily be an element of strength in the campaign."

"How about the situation in New York?" was asked. "It is in splendid shape. The republicans have outgenerated the democrats in every way. Hill's attitude is an element of strength to the republican party and of weakress to his own party. The republi-cans will gain the ninth congressional dis-trict beyond doubt. This is the Goldfogle district. Adler, the republican candidate, is a strong man and is putting up a wonderful campaign."

"Mr. Babcock, why do you say that you have reached the point in the campaign where you see victory assured? Has there heen doubt in the past?"

"I desire to say that heretofore, or up to within a very short time, the conditions were not such as to warrant any safe esti-mates. Nominations had not been made in many districts and conditions were not settled. All difficulties have been adjusted and I cannot see how there is any possibility of the republicans carrying the House bility of a doubt of the republicans carrying the House of Representatives by a good working majority.

Mr. Babcock will return to the headquar-ters in New York tonight.

Mr. Weeks of counsel for the defense filed a written protest against the special jury panel on the ground that the law providing for it is unconstitutional. Justice Lambert repeated the ruling he made on this question on Monday, and Mr. Weeks noted his first exception.

CATHOLIC BISHOPS MEET.

Important Matters Discussed at Conference in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI. October 15.-An important conference of Catholic bishops of the Cincinnati diocese, with Archbishop Elder presiding, is in executive session at St. Peter's | reply from Mr. Mitchelf to the operators' Cathedral here today. Among those present or represented are Bishops Moeller of Columbus, H. Ahlerding of Fort Wayne, J. 7:30 o'clock in the evening the correspond-Richter of Grand Rapids, G. McCloskey of Louisville, F. S. Chattard of Indianapolis, J. S. Foley of Detroit, G. P. Maes of Covington, Ky.; Ignatius Horstmann of Cleveland and T. S. Beirne of Nashville.

The most important question considered is the attitude of the clergy toward the Philippine controversy recently presented at Rome by Governor General Taft. On this question the clergy of some of the dioceses have already declared their views, notably at Cincinnati, Columbus, Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids. Bishop Richter brought some recent letters received from the Philippines. Other matters under discussion of church music.

YOKOHAMA, October 1, via Victoria, B. C., October 15 .- News of the consummation of the long-pending negotiations whereby Japan obtains 50,000,000 yen ($23,000,000) was sprung today on an unsuspecting public. The quiet way in which this large amount of money has been obtained without the least hint leaking out, even through the local negotiators, is considered marvelous, and reflects great credit on the Japanese financiers for diplomacy. The news is received with much enthusiasm as an evidence of rising credit of the country and the effect of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. It is believed now that Japan will proceed to naval expansion, and execute other public undertakings which were waiting upon revenue. But the chief effect of this re-

YOKOHAMA, October 1-(Via Victoria, B. C., October 15) .- A terrible typhoon has spread disaster all over the northern part of Japan. It was accompanied by seismic tidal waves at Odawara, which deluged the coast villages, the loss of life and property being immense. Subscription lists have been opened in the various towns by the leading Japanese people and newspapers. A local journal said:

"From telegrams and personal narrations it seems that the typhoon which visited this section of Japan on Saturday night and Sunday centralized its fury in the region of Odawara. Tidal waves visited the shores at Odawara, Kodzu, Kamekura, Olzo, and oss of life and immense damage to property

HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT

MAKES STATEMENT BEFORE LEAVING WILKESBARRE.

Anxious to Have the Strike Settled on Account of the Country.

Special From a Staff Correspondent.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., October 15 .- Presiient Mitchell left headquarters at 3 o'clock this morning for Washington, upon President Roosevelt's invitation, to consult with him upon the terms of settlement proposed by the operators.

All day yesterday the young labor leader waited for some word from Washington, transmitting the proposition submitted by the operators, but no word came. It was assumed that as the message to the miners had been delivered to the President it would in turn be delivered by him to Mr. Mitchell. Private messages to the correspondents from Washington indicated during the day that the White House was expecting a proclamation. Evidently there was a misunderstanding along the line, and finally at ents called upon Mr. Mitchell in a body and urged him to make some kind of a statement of the attitude of the union. The solicitude of the country was earnestly pointed out to him, and he was reminded that a "third party," the people, had a stake in the fight as well as the two participants in the struggle.

Statement by Mitchell.

For about two minutes the labor chieftain remained silent, puffing away at his cigar, while the correspondents stood grouped about awaiting his response. Finally with were the transfer of the American hier-archy and clergy from the jurisdiction of great deliberation and pondering each word the propaganda to that of the Vatican, the Mr. Mitchell dictated this statement: "I division of certain dioceses and the reform fully appreciate with what anxiety the people of our country are awaiting the result of the coal strike. The coal operators have not addressed the miners' union or its officers in making the public statement. It is, therefore, impossible for me to state the attitude of the miners this time. I am now, as I have always been, deeply solici-PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, October 15.- tous for the interests of the public and welcontinue resisting the army of the pro- mal statement defining our position and invisional government, solicited the inter-vention of the diplomatic corps here, which proposition of the operators."

lation of that place. The government troops immediately afterward occupied the city without any disorder.

Mr. Mitchell added, in response to disconstructions, that he had not heard a word from President Roosevelt during the day, and said the only plans he had in contemplation were for a conference with the district Mr. Mitchell added, in response to presidents on the morrow. It was late at night before communication with the White House was established and the decision was reached to go to Washington and confer with the executive There was not a moment's hesitation on the part of the head of the Miners' Union in meeting the tender for negotiations as soon as it was-formally made.

Satisfaction Over Conference.

Everybody here interested in the struggle is very much relieved that the conference is to take place. It is believed that a personal conference between President Roosevelt and Mr. Mitchell will dissipate the doubts and suspicions which the miners entertain as to the operators' proposition. If Mr. Mitchell is reassured by the President of the arbitration offer and is satisfied with the personnel of the commission he can exercise great influence with the miners toward their acceptance of the terms. It is said here today that in point of fact President Mitchell can order the miners back to work immediately, and keep them at work pending the award of the commission, deferring calling the convention until osition in the recent conference with the President and the operators that the men should go back to work pending arbitration, and it is insisted that he still possesses the same power to send them back to work on

The conference in Washington today is, therefore, regarded by all the parties in the issue here as very important. N. O. M.

By the Associated Press. WILKESBARRE, Pa., October 15 .- President Mitchell of the miners' union left shortly after 3 o'clock this morning for Washington, where he will hold a conference with President Roosevelt today. Mr. Mitchell gave no intimation he was going until he left headquarters to go to the railroad station. It is believed the trip was decided upon last night after he gave to the press his statement to the effect that the operators' arbitration plan was not addressed to him and that he did not know how the miners would receive it. No information can be had here as to what particular phase of the operators' proposal the President wishes to discuss with the mine workers' leader. The President has summoned him, it is believed, to get his views on the new plat. It is known here the proposition in its present form is not entirely satisfactory to Mr. Mitchell. Some entirely satisfactory to Mr. Mitchell. Some of the local leaders are of the opinion that Mr. Mitchell is willing to accept a modified plan, one that will give the miners equal representation on the commission. The strikers feel the arbitration scheme as it now stands is not fair to them.

If a proposition is finally agreed upon it is probable a convention will be called to meet within four days from the time the call is sent out. It is stated by some of those at headquarters that Mr. Mitchell has the power to send the men back to work immediately.

Mr. Mitchell's departure for Washington has again raised the hopes of the miners

Mr. Mitchell's departure for Washington has again raised the hopes of the miners that the end is near. It is their opinion that President Roosevelt and he will come to some understanding which will result in a speedy closing up of the negotiations.

The superintendents of the coal companies in this vicinity reported today that no additional men returned to work today, and that they did not look for any increase so long as the negotiations for arbitration are in progress.

District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy, who arrived here yesterday, were at neadquarters today. They had little to say on the situation except to infer that they find the sentiment of most of the men averse to the new arbitration plan. United States Minister Bowen at Caracas dent Castro left his capital, Minister Bowen fears that an occupation of the capital by the revolutionary forces would result in rioting and pillage, and be attended with great dangers to unprotected foreigners. Such a situation, it is inferred here, is again imminent.

The nearest war vessel to the scene of trouble outside of the Marietta is the gunboat Montgomery, which left Haiti about the first of this month for Santa Marta, near the mouth of the Magdalena river in Colombia, to look into a troubled situation. Owing to the interruptions to cable communication the Navy Department has re-ceived no report from the Montgomery since she left Haiti, and it is feared that even if her services at Santa Marta are not now needed she cannot be reached with dispatch. The Panther is still at Colon, and the Cincinnati has just arrived in Hai-tian waters. There are several gunboats and cruisers which are destined for the Caribbean squadron, which are ready or almost so, for active service, namely, the Newark, Machias and Bancroft at Boston, the Hist at New London and the Detroit at Portsmouth, N. H. But, from Minister Bowen's advices, it appears that a vessel is needed at the earliest possible moment, so it is probable that either the Panther or the Cincinnati will be taken away from her present post and sent to the Venezuelan capital. The following cablegram, received at the State Department this morning from Minister Bowen, dated last night at Caracas, shows the critical condition of affairs in the
